About the Seminar

The democracy amongst the other forms of government is thought to be the best system of government in which the common people of the respective nation elects their representatives. These representatives form the government and decide the fate of the nation having prime concern of welfare of the common people. In this system, the people feel they have direct representation and participation in government and its activities. One form of the democracy is parliamentary democracy, the product of 20th century, which has been adopted in many countries including India. The framers of the Constitution of India, after a long deliberations and discussions, decided to adopt parliamentary system of government. In the light of above facts, the Seminar will provide an effective platform to the academicians, researchers, lawyers, students and other persons having interest in government and its functions for thread-bear discussions and analysis to reach at the conclusion regarding parliamentary democracy and judicial independence in India.

About the College

Brahmanand P.G. College, Kanpur (erstwhile Kanyakubja College) was established in the year 1961 in the memory of its founder Pt. Brahmanand Mishra. The College envisions a world where relationships are governed by the spirit of liberty, fraternity and equality. The College has faculties of Science, Law & Commerce. Initially, the College started with UG programs in all faculties which were later upgraded to PG in Science and Commerce streams. The Department of Law started to impart legal education from the year 1964 under the initial supervision of Late Justice Triveni Sahay Mishra. The College provides an environment where students are encouraged towards holistic personality development and rational thinkers.
